

Our Environmental Policy

At Another Star, we take sustainability seriously. Our hotels were built and are operated with the intention of minimising our environmental footprint. No matter where we operate hotels, we respect surrounding communities and manage our impact for the benefit of society, not just ourselves. The goal is simple – every hotel is monitored and refined in line with five objectives. They are:

- preserve the environment where we've built and operate
- minimise the day-to-day impact of our activities
- continually monitor and improve our environmental performance
- achieve high standards of sustainable green building certification at our all our owned hotels
- meet all legal environmental compliance obligations

No matter where we own and operate in the world, Another Star meets the following commitments:

- apply sound environmental practices in hotel design, development and operation
- integrate technologies in our hotels to optimise efficiency
- encourage efficient use of materials and resources during hotel construction
- take biodiversity considerations into the development of our hotels
- seek to reduce energy and water use
- reuse and recycle resources consumed by our business wherever practical
- integrate renewable energy into the design of our hotels where feasible
- monitor, record and review our environmental performance and greenhouse gas emissions every year
- encourage guests, employees, suppliers and contractors to join us to meet our environmental objectives
- set sound environmental targets and review them on a periodic basis
- communicate our policies, practices and programs with key stakeholders and incorporate our commitments into department objectives when we make business decisions

Lennert de Jong, CEO, Another Star